Foreword

○ convey the essence of Harriton's past accomplishments and future aspirations, as well as to represent the first graduating class to complete all three years at the school, the 1961 AURORA staff has chosen as its theme "The Alma Mater."

Displaying both the school colors—red and white—and the mascot—a highlander—the cover design symbolizes the spirit and tradition at Harriton. However, the theme is more thoroughly manifest in the five section dividers. On the endsheets are depicted familiar situations at school. Students performing their daily activities illustrate the various phases of life at Harriton.

The faculty section is represented by the objects vital to each teacher in his routine—mailboxes, keys, and telephones. Designating the senior section are abstract drawings to symbolize the life of a senior. A graduation cap and a diploma suggest Harriton as a seat of learning, a "place of glorious dreams begun." Because sophomores are required to read "A Tale of Two Cities," the section divider for underclassmen displays the guillotine. The rules to which underclassmen are subjected are represented by the words "Do not," while a map of France, paintboxes, and a hammer symbolize some of the elective subjects. "This the Highlanders will pledge thee, e'er to hold thy banner high," was selected to begin the activities section. It characterizes the desire of students to work well with others and to participate in Harriton's extra-curricular program. The chess knights, typewriter keys, and pennants denote student interest in after school activities. A diversity of athletic equipment was used to introduce the sports section. Varsity letters, track shoes, oars, and lacrosse sticks symbolize still another aspect of student activity.

Because the Alma Mater evokes a feeling of respect for Harriton's past record as well as its future aspirations, it was chosen to serve as the theme. It is the hope of the AURORA staff of 1961 that the Alma Mater will inspire the students of Harriton to appreciate their environment and to benefit from the opportunities it affords.

Dedication

A teacher who will surely never be forgotten by Harriton's Class of '61 is Mrs. Genevieve B. Jones. Her deep sincerity and her devotion to the needs of her students have endeared her to all who have come in contact with her. The 1961 AURORA is affectionately and admiringly dedicated to this outstanding teacher and friend who has consistently devoted herself to the students of our class.

A tireless worker, Mrs. Jones maintains a schedule of activities which keeps her busy from early in the morning until late at night. Her distinguishing scholarliness and the great care which she takes in preparing her Latin and French classes, coupled with her infectious personal enthusiasm for knowledge of all kinds, have stimulated her students' interest in these subjects. But scholasticism is only a small part of Mrs. Jones' multi-faceted character. Despite her didactic duties, she still finds time to lead many extra-curricular organizations. Remaining long after the dismissal bell has rung, she directs the activities of the Honor Society and works with the Honesty Committee to promote the development of integrity among the students of the school. She also serves untiringly as faculty sponsor and literary advisor for the AURORA.

Mrs. Jones is a teacher who combines the elements of vitality, wisdom, and interest; a woman who, not content with giving knowledge and understanding, gives of herself. A stimulating and warmly human influence, she does not change, and yet so many mature intellectually and spiritually because they know her.

TO THE CLASS OF 1961

A milestone is a form of legacy. It is a brief, significant message from one who has traveled the road to one who is contemplating travel. It is silent proof that the end of the road is known. It can serve as encouragement or challenge to the next traveler to try his fortunes on the highway around the bend.

The Class of 1961 is the first class at Harriton to mark each mile of the highway from Sophomore September to Senior June. Commencement Day is the last milestone, silent proof that the end of the Highland road is known.

The achievements of this class are significant monuments of its courage, persistence, and imagination. They are also encouragement to the Harriton wayfarers of tomorrow.

Their thanks may reach you, 1961, as you journey presently around the bend.

Good Luck,

W. B. Wolcott, Jr., Principal

Administration

DR. PHILIP U. KOOPMAN, Superintendent of Schools.

Dr. Philip U. Koopman, superintendent of the Lower Merion School District, advises the Board of Education concerning all important matters which deal with the welfare of the schools. The Board holds meetings at least once a month to discuss the multifarious problems and issues that arise daily. Much time is devoted to deciding the budget, which includes the cost of new buildings, facilities, and maintenance. Constantly encountering many challenges, the Board meets all of its daily tasks with no demand for recognition.

IN MEMORIAM

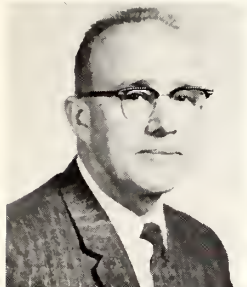

JAMES BEIGHLE

It is impossible to describe the quality, the intangible something, which made James Beighle so well-loved at Harriton. Self-effacing, unprepossessing, he walked the corridors of Harriton with dignity, never raising his voice above its naturally quiet tone. This man, who had served the school district for years, demanded no recognition, but unobtrusively continued his faithful service. His greatest reward was self-satisfaction, his greatest pleasure contributing to the joy and growth of young minds. The loss of this kind, quiet man dealt quite a blow to us at Harriton, but he lives still in the memories of those who knew and loved him.

OFFICE AIDS

The office and its staff are the efficient machinery which keeps Harriton running smoothly. The hard-working secretaries always seem to find enough time to be friendly and helpful with students. However, the office staff would not be complete without the volunteered assistance of many helpful students.

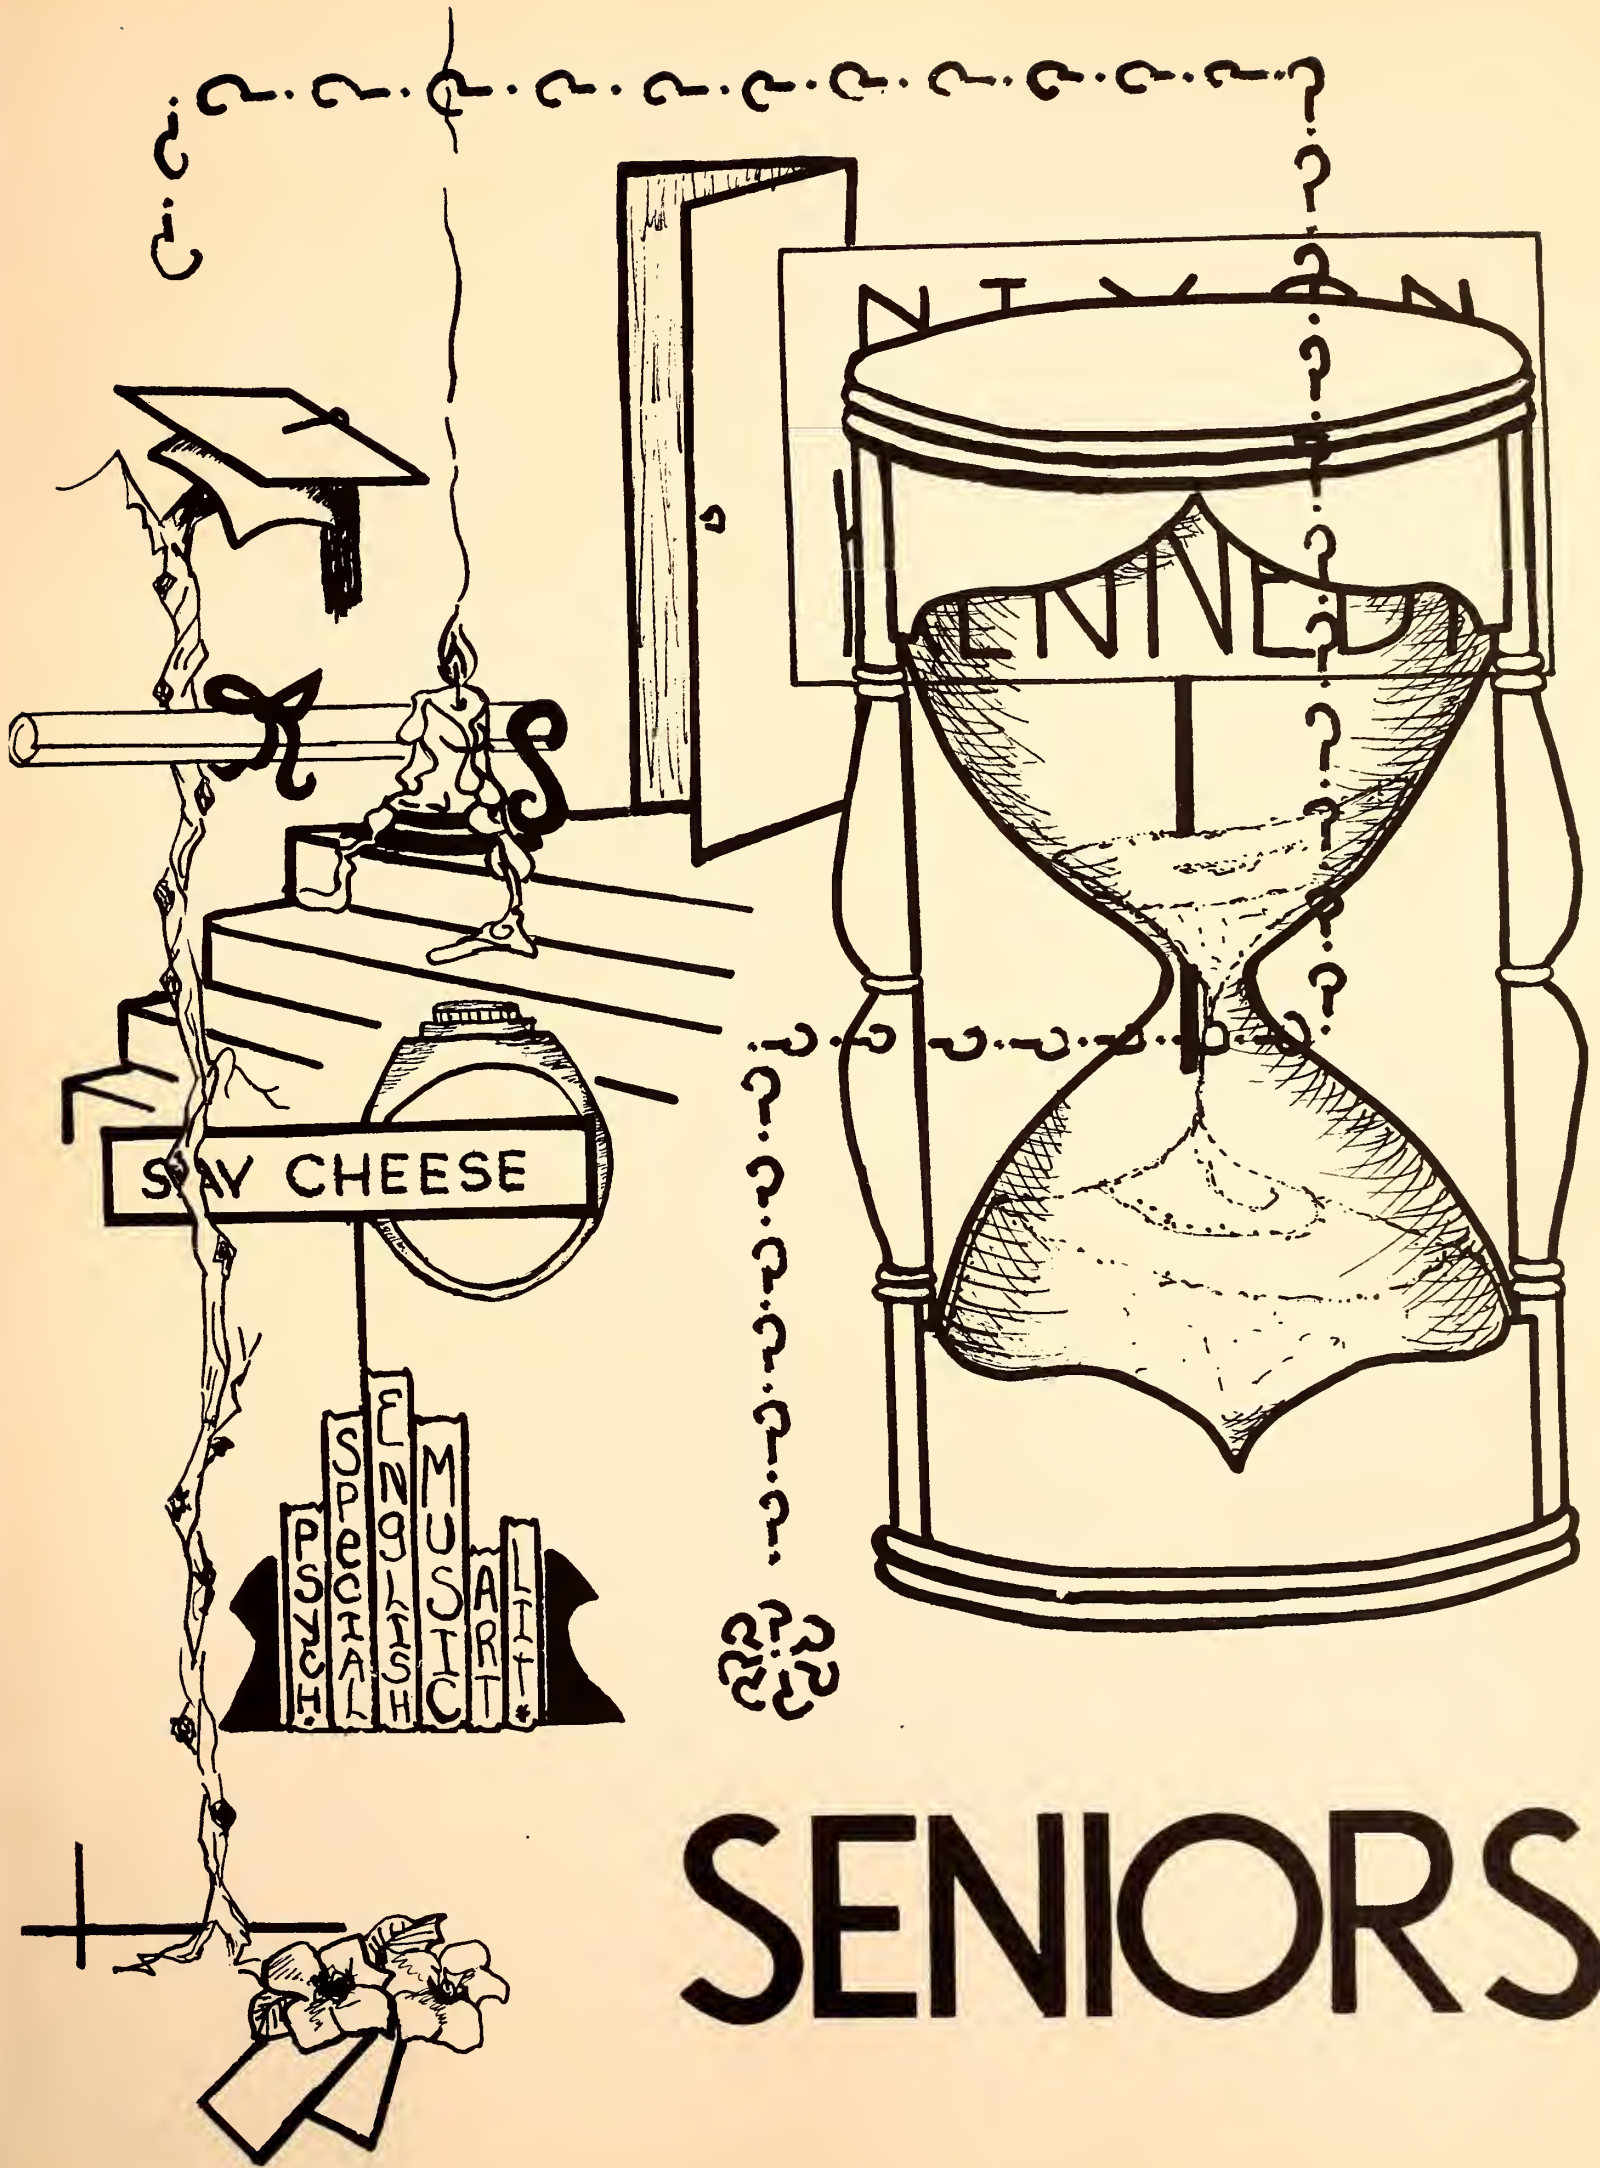

Along with the office staff, the custodians also play an important role in Harriton's daily routine. Throughout the school year they do an excellent job in keeping the campus attractive.

A major role, most appreciated by the students, is the one of the dietitian and her aides. The cafeteria's pleasant atmosphere provides a fine spot for the wonderful varieties of expertly prepared foods.

Three years ago the faculty and students entered Harriton, perhaps a bit awed by its modern buildings and immaculate landscaping. The shell was complete, but it remained to create and mold the spirit within these walls before Harriton could truly be called a high school. Our class of 1961 was placed in a challenging position in this process, for we were to be the first class to spend three years at Harriton. While the faculty struggled to produce a fine institution of learning, we were faced with the responsibility of forming the traditions and spirit which would continue to pervade the school. For three years it was our job to form a school from the web of troubles, happiness, successes, and failures which were ours. Now we are preparing to begin our separate journeys along the paths of life, but we will not forget our united effort here at Harriton.

To the class of 1962 remains the burden of responsibility to continue Harriton's greatness. To them and to those who will follow, we wish the best. We know the joy of the task that awaits them.

Exchange Student

"Koko"

"Hello, everybody!" With these words, Harriton's Foreign Exchange student, Kyoko Iwashita, first greeted her new schoolmates. With the help of her sparkling black eyes and warm smile, Koko quickly made many friends, and soon changed these words to "Hi!"

Koko came to Harriton from Keisen Girls School in Tokyo, Japan. Almost immediately she became adapted to the American way of life, and after two short months made her stage debut in "Loomful of Loses"—really "Roomful of Roses"; but Koko had some trouble, as do all Japanese, in distinguishing between the L and R sounds in English. Another new experience for our "actress" was participating in the Girls' Service League Show, where she learned how it feels to be a "Rockette." Koko was also an active member of the Booster Club, and was always a vital part of the Harriton cheering section.

In spite of all her extracurricular activities, Koko never failed to find time for her schoolwork, especially her favorite subject, U. S. History. Her ambition is to work hard at bettering international relations, and she has certainly made a fine start here at Harriton.

Student Council

With two years of experience and a sound constitution as its foundation, the Student Council began its third year of operation as a fully developed governing body. A functional example of democratic processes, this organization tried to promote a closer contact between the administration and the student body and to represent student opinion. The Council, again guided by faculty sponsor, Mrs. Graham, and financial advisor, Mr. Marshall, was comprised of one elected representative from each homeroom and the chairmen of the various standing committees. These committees put the power of the Council to work in seven areas: Assembly, Campus Care, Foreign Exchange, Hospitality, Lost and Found, Public Information, and Ways and Means.

Meeting bi-weekly, the Council discussed student problems and school projects, presented either by representatives or by committee chairmen. After carefully surveying each problem, the representatives came to a decision by means of a majority vote.

Campus improvements, a Christmas dance, the presentation of two feature films, and several entertaining and educational assemblies comprised a few of the activities of this organization. In addition, an Interschool Council, composed of various local schools, was established to compare ideas on common problems. The Harriton Student Council was successful in all its endeavors.

The effervescent vivacity of the cheerleading squad once again was the primary force in creating enthusiasm at all varsity football and basketball games. For the varsity, eight girls and four boys were chosen, while four girls were selected for the junior varsity.

With their many new cheers and formations, the squad inculcated much spirit in the sports fans.

Co-captains Sarah Greene and Muff Koopman displayed outstanding leadership and enthusiasm. Rallies also stirred the students to larger attendances at all athletic contests. The cheerleaders employed charm, pep, and poise to hold the interest and attention of the spectators.

Booster Club

Supporting school activities and boosting Harriton's spirit were the two main functions of the Booster Club, sponsored by Mr. Leroy Hollingsworth. The Boosters made posters to advertise school events, sold pennants, rah-rahs, and book covers, and sponsored two dances. In addition, to promote interest in Harriton's basketball team, the club participated in a pep rally which was broadcast on WRCV radio January 28, 1961.

At the beginning of the year, the club elected its officers for the school year 1960-61. They were: Chip Forgie, Lynne Vogel, Bobbie Hess, Hunter Lott, Dick Altschuler, Nancy Hughes, and Ellen Hughes. All sophomores, juniors, and seniors willing to devote time and effort were invited to join the Booster Club.

"Toward thought and humor," the motto of the Forum for the past two years, was never more fully realized than in this year's paper. The new sponsor, Mr. Ronald Teare, instructed the staff in the art of entertaining and informative journalism. Capable Editor-in-Chief John Fischer efficiently upheld this motto despite the hectic obstacles of early deadlines.

News Editors Sharon Cooper, Debbie Klein, and Richie Toub; Feature Editors Mat Cuniff and Sandy Shaeffer; and Sports Editors Ellis Landau and Bob Tessler, all working hard to produce a first-grade newspaper, overcame crises, panics, and tears for the purpose of stimulating and enlightening the entire student body. Besides this strenuous work, the Forum sponsored such student activities as colored photographs and the selling of cokes during home basketball games.

The Forum also participates in the honorary organization, the Quill and Scroll, which nationally represents outstanding members of both this staff and the AURORA. Admittance into this group is contingent upon recommendation of the publication's sponsor, being in the upper one-third of one's class, and acceptance by a central board.

Combining literary and business efforts, editors meet to review page layouts.

Editors having been chosen last May, the 1961 AURORA staff began to function in early fall. Members were easily recognizable running through the halls with ad blanks, brushes, cameras, and questionnaires, encouraging subscribers.

The art staff, holding thumbs at right angles, prepared page layouts, endsheets and dividers, and chose the cover design. Working closely with them was the literary staff, who handled the activities section and probed deeply into the personalities of the seniors to accomplish the senior write-ups.

Responsible for financing the entire publication, the business staff campaigned early, soliciting ads and selling the book itself.

The Photography staff caused surprises as they snapped candid of unaware victims.

In December, the staff sponsored a Christmas party for the Children's Village of Rosemont. Youngsters were delighted with the decorations provided by Lynda Barton's committee, and the antics of Santa Claus (Mr. Emmerling).

The full cooperation of faculty sponsors and staff members made possible the 1961 AURORA.

Bob Howland, master tympanist, provides rhythmic background for the orchestra.

Under the direction of Mr. Andrew Frech, members of the Harriton Orchestra were given an opportunity to play a variety of music. In order to broaden concepts and enrich musical appreciation, brief lessons in harmony and structure were given, in addition to the study of both classical and contemporary compositions.

Several concerts were presented throughout the year, including the Christmas Concert and Annual Spring Concert at Harriton, a concert at Girard College, and exchange programs with other schools. Members of the string section were given an opportunity to develop their musical taste by playing chamber music at dinners, luncheons and meetings. In addition to performing in these larger groups, the better musicians had the experience of performing as soloists or participating in solo groups.

Aside from Harriton Orchestra activities, all members had the privilege to compete for positions in the Southeastern District Orchestra. This group is composed of the best musicians from high schools throughout southeastern Pennsylvania. Many of the Harriton Orchestra personnel obtained the benefits of playing the challenging music provided by this organization.

ACTIVITIES

To study and appreciate all types of music is the goal of Harriton's band, ably directed by Mr. Andrew Frech. This year the boys played a wide variety of compositions ranging from the classical forms of the eighteenth century to the swift marches of John Phillip Sousa and Artie Shaw's "Begin the Beguine."

The band began its season by providing pep songs and marches at football games, supplementing this with snappy formations. Proudly displaying their new uniforms, the boys indeed presented a colorful picture on the field.

With the close of the busy football season, the band turned its efforts to perfecting concert music. The selections rehearsed were quite numerous, although only the best were performed at concerts. The better musicians in the organization were also given an opportunity to perform as soloists or in solo groups during programs presented at Harriton and other local high schools. The high point of the year 1960-61 was the annual Spring Concert which ended another fine season of music.

Vocal Music

The vocal music department at Harriton, headed by Mr. Ronald C. Teare, consists of three groups. This arrangement offers the benefits of choral music to all students.

The major group, Harriton's Concert Choir, consisting of junior and senior boys and girls, continued to strive for choral perfection through improvement of techniques of tone quality, diction, timing and pitch. This group, aided by the experience of returning members and new talent, had the advantage of studying a variety of music as they increased in their skill.

Another division of the department is the Boys' Chorus. In spite of the limited range of the male voice they did have an opportunity to sing numerous compositions through Mr. Teare's skillful rearrangements. The Girls' Chorus presented a chance for sophomore girls interested in joining the choir to learn about the program of choral music.

Several concerts were given throughout the year, including the Christmas Concert and the Annual Spring Concert, held at Harriton. In addition to performing both a cappella and with piano accompaniment, the members of the choral groups joined with the orchestra to produce stirring combined numbers.

Thespian Society

"A Roomful of Roses" concerns the child of divorced parents (Nancy Hughes) who comes to visit her mother (Nancy Gettes). As neighbors (Karen Palmer, Sarah Greene) do everything they can to win her over. Her father (Bob Tessler) arrives, complicating matters. The recipe for making her happy contains the following ingredients: dash of the kindness of a friendly maid (Koko Iwashita); a level teaspoonful of small-boy remarks (Stan Carroll); a full cup of adolescent humor (Pete Levin); and a lightly beaten comedy of an understanding step-father (Mark Hallett).

Mrs. Murphy gives last-minute directions to entire cast.

The Little Theater Group, sponsored by Mrs. Eva Murphy and Mr. Leland Johnson, is an organization of students who are interested in various phases of drama.

Membership in this organization depends upon the ability, experience, and desire of the students to participate in the activities of a dramatic club. These activities include the producing of assembly programs and staging of a three act play. For continued membership, fifty hours of work on the part of each student is required.

After sorting the ability and experience questionnaires filled out by interested students, the sponsors called a general meeting. At that meeting, officers and a Board of Directors were appointed.

Following the two productions, an initiation dinner was held during which the pledge of membership was administered to the newly-elected members. Entertainment was provided by several of the group.

The purpose of the Little Theatre Group is to advance the standard of excellence in dramatic arts and to create further interest in the theater. The group encourages students to attain a better mastery of language; to develop poise, self-control, and individual talents; and to appreciate dramatic literature and its techniques.

The National Thespian Society is the honorary organization of dramatic arts. One hundred hours of work and the recommendation of the sponsor and executive committee are required for membership. The main purpose of the society this year was to act as a guide for the Little Theater Group in the capacity of an advisory committee. Its motto expresses the aim of the organization, "Act well your part, there all the honor lies."

Service League girls display burlesque talents in "There's Nothing Like A Dame."

Functioning under the guidance of faculty sponsor Miss Taylor, the Girls' Service League had an active and productive year. Trying to be of service to school and community, the group began its work with Harriton's first social event, "The Highland Fling," planned by the fifteen senior members elected the previous year. The entire group, with the addition of thirty new members chosen by classmates and faculty, successfully produced the show, "There's Nothing Like a Dame." The proceeds from this project were used to help the group's foster child, adopted this year.

Service to the community consisted of collecting for various charitable organizations. By entertaining at hospitals and helping needy families at holiday times, these sincere and enthusiastic girls tried to brighten the lives of others less fortunate than they.

HONOR SOCIETY OFFICERS: Mark Hallett, President; Richard Toub, Treasurer; Debbie Klein, Secretary; Sharon Cooper, Vice-President.

Mrs. Genevieve Jones again sponsored Harriton's chapter of the National Honor Society. Under the direction of President Mark Hallett, assisted by Vice-President Sharon Cooper, Secretary Debbie Klein, and Treasurer Richie Toub, the society endeavored to further its ideals of scholarship, service, character, and leadership. Activities of the group included the formation of a student tutoring service and an assembly for the induction of new members, followed by a reception for their parents.

The Honesty Committee, instituted last year by the members of the society to combat cheating, continued its campaign under the chairmanship of Mark Hallett. This group, composed of faculty members, students, and parents, listed recommendations for the faculty, gave panel discussions at Harriton and the local junior highs, and wrote letters to the parents, in an effort to make the community more aware of the problem.

The sponsors of Harriton's Business Club, Miss Beatrice Easter and Miss Marea Taylor, provided the opportunity for students to become acquainted with the business world and office techniques. Business Club members learned to understand business methods and office practices through hearing speakers, taking field trips to business offices, and viewing motion pictures that were related to business problems. An annual Christmas party and spring picnic provided amusement for the club.

German Club

The German Club consists of a group of interested German students who meet twice a month to learn more about the German language and culture. Many fascinating speakers have given the group new insight into Germany and German life. The members have sampled German food, and all are now enthusiastic about Apfelkuchen. In order to have fun while learning better German, the group has visited German films showing in Philadelphia.

Stage Crew

Before the curtain rises, many things must take place backstage, such as the checking and rechecking of scenery and lighting, and the placement of props in their correct positions.

Under the leadership of Lerry Chase, the stage crew was responsible for the technical work behind the school assemblies, Little Theater productions, dances, proms, the Girls' Service League Show, and other programs presented during the school year.

Science Club

Ablly directed by Mr. Harold Ferguson, the Science Club was formed this fall by students interested in science careers.

Many club members attended a conference concerning advanced placement in chemistry. Several well known lecturers, including a bio-physicist, Dr. Wycoff, visited the group, speaking on such topics as the "Determination and Structure of Crystals."

The club's plans for next year include an extended research program and a possible science grant.

Knitting Club

A new addition to the growing number of activities at Harriton this year was the Knitting Club. Senior, junior, and sophomore girls who enjoy knitting were able to meet Mondays after school in Miss Brannan's room. Not only did the girls amaze themselves by knitting sweaters, scarves, mittens, and socks, but they also made a blanket as a service project.

Chess Club

The intellectual faction of Harriton made its bid for recognition this year with the organization of a Chess Club. Sponsored by Mr. Hearn, the club welcomed all students interested in chess, regardless of their degrees of proficiency. Holding their meetings after school, the club members increased their skill in both regular and postal chess. The Chess Club was very successful in stimulating interest in this fascinating and challenging game.

The Foreign Exchange Committee of Student Council, sponsored by Miss Beatrice Easter, undertook various projects to support the American Field Service Program. This year's foreign student, Kyoko Iwashita of Japan, lived with the Hess family of Villanova. Sandy Walls, Harriton's exchange student to West Berlin last summer, was co-chairman of the committee with Bobbie Hess.

Several assemblies were planned by this committee, and the sale of shares of stock helped to promote student interest and to raise funds for next year's exchange program. The sale of Christmas cards, initiated by Secretary Debbie Deal and Treasurer Lexie Horn, also helped to replenish the treasury, providing the expenses for several celebrations. At Christmas and in the spring, parties were given in honor of exchange students from neighboring schools, and a farewell party was given for this summer's exchange student, Polly Furniss.

World Affairs Club

Members of the World Affairs Club, accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Beatrice Easter, attended six Saturday-morning forums during the school year. Distinguished speakers were introduced by Mat Cuniff, Chairman of the Interscholastic Senior High School Student Council, who also organized the roundtable discussions on vital problems in the world today.

In Harriton's own World Affairs Club, President Mat Cuniff, Vice-president Gene Spector, Secretary Nancy Gettes, and Treasurer Steve Borish chose those who were to be sent to the United Nations in New York and to the State Department in Washington. Another activity of this club was their participation in the Model United Nations as representatives of Japan and Iran.

Although the record posted by the 1960 Football Team was an unimpressive 0-9-0, this was primarily a building season to introduce the relatively inexperienced juniors and sophomores to Coach Evans and the new system.

In the outstanding game with Springfield, Harrington threatened its opponent five times, only to be set back by penalties and interceptions and lose the game 27-6.

Captain Charlie Hires was, throughout the season, the leader and inspiration of the team. The Most Valuable Player award went to Joe Bisignaro who made All-Suburban Honorable Mention and was the leading ground-gainer. Bruce Sunstein was the team's outstanding sportsman.

This year's team was light in weight, but high in spirit. Their lack of depth and reserve was balanced by their determination and effort.

Harriton's Rams attained an excellent 7-1-1 record in league competition, scoring 29 goals and holding the opposition to only 8. During the crucial game of the season, they missed the league title by only one point. Four hundred spectators watched Lower Merion defeat Harriton 3-2 in the final minute of play.

Co-captains Dick Altschuler and John Jackson made the All-Suburban first team. Dick received Harriton's Most Valuable Player award and Chip Wilkinson was voted the Most Improved Player.

With seven starters and eleven lettermen returning, the team's prospects for next year are bright.

Cross Country

This year the Harriton Cross Country Team, under the able tutelage of mentor Harold Spealler, experienced its best season in three years. They posted a record of 5 wins and 2 losses, tying Springfield for the league's second place.

Junior Captain Ken McCloskey remained undefeated during his second year of dual competition. He placed second in the District One Championships for the second consecutive year, and placed fourth against the states' best runners in the State Championships.

Most of the opposing teams were larger in number; nevertheless, Harriton made a fine showing in quality running. The members of this year's varsity squad were Jerry Bell, Jack Belsinger, Dave Bryant, Bob Clark, Ken McClosky, George McGann, and Richie Toub. Both Ken and George were honored at the Fall Sports Banquet as recipients of the 100 mile club trophies.

With five lettermen and Captain Ken McClosky returning, plus a fine supporting junior varsity, Coach Spealler anticipates that the team should do well.

The 1960 Girls' Varsity Hockey Team battled its way to a 3-3-2 record against extreme weather conditions and a definite lack of experience. Coach Barbara Longstreth, harassed by the early season losses, urged the forward line to "Rush, rush, rush!"; while Debbie Klein, the captain, created the slogan for the steady defense, "There's nary a care with our backfield there!" These words to the wise made a definite impression as the stickgals came from behind on the pasture-like field of Penncrest and defeated them 3-1. High-scoring honors for the team were copped by Midge Hesse and Sally Rhimer, with six goals apiece. Left halfback Debbie Deal held the distinction of being the only scoring member of the defense, while the goal was ably defended by Chris Bell. Despite its setbacks and disappointments, the squad outscored its opponents by four goals.

The prospects for next year look extremely bright because of the JV's brilliant 7-1 record. This team remained undefeated and unscored-upon until the last heartbreaking game in which they were defeated 1-2.

Boys' Basketball

Although this year's Basketball Team posted the seemingly unimpressive record of 2-16, the starting line-up was plagued by injuries. A closer look into the situation indicates that Co-captains Dick Altschuler and Chip Forgie were sidelined for a total of eleven games. The absence of such misfortunes could have made a difference in the results of several games.

The high spot of the season was the final game with Marple-Newtown, which Harriton won by a score of 58-50. The team seemed unified and worked together with organized precision, factors which had been lacking in several previous games. Chip Forgie demonstrated great skill under the boards, playing the best game of his career.

With the return of six varsity lettermen and the prospects of this year's strong JV's, next year's outlook is bright.

Under the leadership of Co-captains John Jackson and Bruce Buck, the grapplers compiled a 6-2-1 record, enabling them to tie for the league championship with Springfield. The team was a hard-working group who managed to emerge victorious from several close meets. This year's schedule provided the keen competition of consistent victors such as Upper Darby and the Hill School.

The team produced three Suburban champs: Joseph Ferrucci, George McGann, and John Jackson. John and George both went to the Regionals where they placed second and third respectively.

Although the team will lose six varsity wrestlers, the outlook for next year is optimistic with the promise of seven returning lettermen.

Because of a lack of returning varsity letter winners, the Girls' Basketball Team was not able to equal last year's excellent standards. However, the team did compile a 5-3 record. High-scoring Captain Barbara Taylor averaged 20 points a game, and returning varsity player Debbie Klein averaged 13 per game. The guards were led in rebounding and in play by Margit Shinn and Barbara Pollock.

"Think positively," the motto of the team, greatly aided Harriton's girls in defeating Radnor 41-38 in the last quarter of the game. In addition, the girls triumphed over Upper Merion 58-29. A fine spirit enabled the Girls' Basketball Team to have a winning season.

With two practices each week at the Suburban Swimming Club in Marple-Newtown and one at Bryn Mawr College, Harriton's 1960-61 Girls' Swimming Team was ready to challenge the strongest opponent.

Not only did these enthusiastic mermaids face many difficult meets, but they also had to overcome late hours, frozen hair, and buses stuck in the snow. Once again, however, T 'n T came to the rescue, lifting dampened spirits and urging weary legs and arms to kick faster and pull harder.

Led by Co-captains Sara Skillman and Lynne Vogel, Coach Harold Spealler, and faculty sponsor Jean Andrews, the Varsity swept over Lower Merion 46-35 to end the season with a 7-3-1 record, while the J.V. ended with an enviable 9-2-0.

Guided by Captain Gerry Gerson and returning letterman Trey Gosweiler, the varsity keggers won 30 games and lost 40. Although the team dropped in its league during the second half of the season, the boys placed third for the first portion. Coach Leinbach stated that the team's strength is steadily improving and that prospects for next year are good, in spite of the loss of several seniors.

Golf Squad

An optimistic 1961 Golf Team with their coach, Mr. Stanley Westover, teed off this season. Practicing diligently at the Valley Forge Golf Club, they had high hopes of finishing high in the league. The loss of only one varsity player and the return of first man, Bob Buck, contributed greatly to their success. Additional returning strokers were Bob Dubin, Ellis Landau, Bob Landis, Mike Saltzburg and Sandy Walls.

Spring training found Harriton's baseball diamond teeming with early season activity. Led by their new coaches, Mr. Jack Harrington and Mr. William Evans, the team was forced to rely on juniors and JV players to fill the ranks vacated by graduating seniors.

The team started its season in fine style with the defeat of Ridley's Raiders, 4-1. With this encouraging beginning, the team anticipated a successful season.

The return of several varsity players brightens the outlook for next year's team.

Demonstrating unusual skill, Marc Kantor scores another victory in the broad jump.

An opening victory over Upper Merion propelled the 1961 Track Team to eminence. Significantly strengthened by the experience of returning lettermen Bart Frame in the hurdles and broad jump, John Moffett in the shot put, and Captain Tom Davies in the hurdles and discus, Harriton had potential winners in every event. However, a Lower Merion District ruling prevented the team from participating in discus and javelin events, thus compelling the Highlanders to forfeit 18 points initially at each away meet.

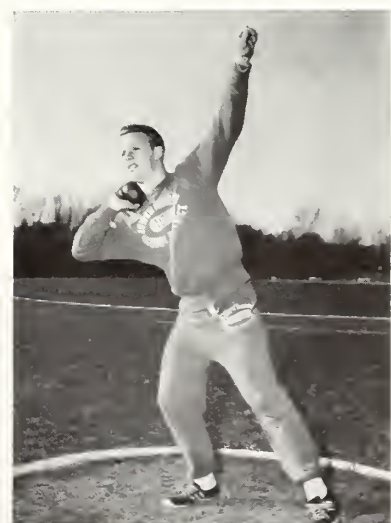

Harriton's new quarter-mile track and the optimistic outlook of Coach Leroy Hollingsworth provided the incentive necessary for a much improved season.

The 1961 Varsity Lacrosse Team was one of the peppiest and most successful teams of the year. Inspired by the enthusiasm of All-American Coach Barbara Longstreth, the girls could not fail to provide stiff opposition to all their opponents. Experience was very apparent in the squad, especially in Captain Joan Hamilton, who previously had been goalie for three years. The attack was sparked by Midge Hesse and Debbie Klein, while the defense was bolstered by Debbie Deal and Muff Koopman. The season got underway with an alumnae game and a scrimmage with Lower Merion during spring vacation. The J.V. also presented a fine record and promises to carry on the winning tradition. Perhaps it may even provide the spark needed to defeat the so-far unbeaten private schools.

With a forehand swing, Alice Belmonte returns a serve.

The depth and balance of this year's Boys' Tennis Team contributed to a fine record. Coach Schneider, commenting on the successful season, said that this year's team featured a unique blend of spirit and ability. A special salute should be given to senior boys Steve Borish, Andy Braunfeld, Cal English, Dave Girard-Di-Carlo, and Mark Hallett; for these five players, participating in the sport for three years, brought Harriton its first championship team. The squad was ably led by a distinguished player, Captain Ned Saxman.

The Girls' Tennis Team, despite the loss of last year's three top players, provided stiff competition for all opponents. Under the guidance of Coach Gulick and the able captainship of skillful players Ann and Alice Belmonte (first and second singles), the team was led through a fine season. Returning varsity players Tootsie Hahn and Karen Ramsey strongly backed up the co-captains.

Against a scenic backdrop, the crew practices for another winning season.

Knowing that the places of seven graduating lettermen had to be filled, the 1961 Crew began their rigorous training a week earlier than usual. Coach Herb Horner was confident of a good season because of the success of his 1960 junior eight-oared shell, which finished 7th in the National Championships and 2nd in the City Championships.

The seven seniors who formed the nucleus of this year's crew were Bob Anderson, Bob Aronoff, Skip Lange, Biff Martin, George Painter, Dick Pierce, and Dick Zeisse. They were aided by the boundless energy and strong efforts of the former sophomore crew. Journeying to the Bachelor's Barge Club on the Schuylkill River every day after school, the boys learned the strokes with which they hoped to outrow their opponents.

After many diligent hours of training for their first race against Kent School on April eighth, the Rams displayed the winning form which lasted throughout their difficult season.

Let all praise thee, Alma Mater

Hail to noble Harriton

Home of memories we will treasure

Place of glorious dreams begun.

O'er thy walks and terraced gardens

Green slopes roll to meet the sky —

This the Highlanders will pledge thee

E'er to hold thy banner high,

All hail to Harriton eternal;

Some of you will look to the business world now—others after you've completed your college studies. In either case, the telephone company merits your thoughtful consideration.

As you know, we are a large company and so we need many kinds of talents. You thus have an opportunity to select the particular type of work that would suit you best. Equally important, opportunities for advancement are plentiful. You will also be pleased with the good starting salary and generous benefits. And at the telephone company you enjoy the sense of well-being that comes from working in a meaningful capacity for a highly-regarded organization.

So whether you are seeking a position right now or several years from now, remember that the telephone company always welcomes bright, conscientious young people.
